Full Color Restaurant Placemat Printing

If you're looking for a way to entice your restaurant's guests and tell them all about what's cooking, placemats are a must. Placemats are prominently seen in restaurants, where diners check the restaurant's list of food or drink offerings. However, it's just as possible to use these printed materials to display the different services offered in spas, beauty salons or other similar establishments.

- Top-quality short-run digital and offset printing
- Available in standard and custom sizes
- Use as a coloring sheet to keep kids busy

The placemat is often overlooked as a marketing piece, but that's just what it is - the more you can convince customers to try, the more dishes they'll like and the more business you'll get.

Placemat printing is one of the most cost effective and potentially profitable investments a restaurant can make. Placemats are incredibly powerful motivators that bring business by the dozens - when done right. We want your placemat to wet your customers' appetite, so we print our placemats on high quality paper showing off your delicious dishes.
